Frisco Public Library Seeks Partnership with Homeschooled Students

Goals and Objectives

The Frisco Public Library is seeking to create a productive working relationship with the homeschooled students of our area. We feel that by working together with students and their parents the Library can provide the resources needed for homeschooled students to be successful in their studies. By working together with this common goal we can develop pertinent areas of studies within the Library, provide research assistance, develop special programs and help individuals to become successful decimators of information.

A to Z Home's Cool

A Homeschooling Web Site

This site is maintained by Ann Zeise a "retired" home schooling parent from Milpitas, CA. She shares countless useful resources and her many life experiences with guests to her website.

Parenting Collection Homeschooling Resources

Community input was one of the basic foundations upon which the new Frisco Public Library was planned and built. The Library's purpose is to serve the patrons of the surrounding area. One of the sections of the Library that reflects this philosophy is the second floor Parenting Collection. This area contains a variety of Homeschooling resources.

Teen Room

The Teen Room located on the first floor of the Library is especially designed for students sixth through twelfth grades. It is a well lighted area with comfortable seating, computers, meeting and video areas and great resources. All materials: books, magazines and media are selected with the interests and academic needs of middle and high school students.

Please come and visit our fantastic new space.

Database Review: History Database Center

History Center Online: <http://www.friscolibrary.com/resources.cfm>

This database is accessible from the library and from your home computer if you have a Frisco Public Library Card and Pin Number. You may need to temporarily disable your pop-up blockers to view these databases.

History Database Center provides access to three databases: American History Online, World History, and Ancient History & Culture. American History Online is a comprehensive and authoritative reference to the most important individuals, events, and topics in United States history. World History Online covers the important civilizations and cultures of world history from prehistoric times through the modern era. Ancient History & Culture gives a balanced, global view of the ancient world as it explores six ancient centers of civilization - Africa, Egypt, Greece, Rome, Mesoamerica, and Mesopotamia.
