

February 2008
Volume 3 Issue 1

Poetry Contest @ the Frisco Public Library

Mark your calendars! The upcoming poetry contest for children ages 7 to 18 years old! Entries will be accepted from March 1st to March 31st at the Frisco Public Library. Poems may be on any subject and written in any style. There is no official entry form. Children may submit each of their poems on a separate spiral notebook paper, special stationary, or whatever sparks their imagination! Please make sure to put the child's name on the back of the entry along with their age, grade level, teacher/parent's name, and method of contacting the teacher/parent!

The library will hold a special reception to honor the winners chosen from each category based on age/grade. The reception will be held on April 26 at 11:00 am with special guest 2005 Texas Poet Laureate Alan Birkelbach!

Goals and Objectives

The Frisco Public Library strives to create a productive working relationship with the homeschooled students of our area. We feel that by working together with students and their parents the Library can provide the resources needed for homeschooled students to be successful in their studies.

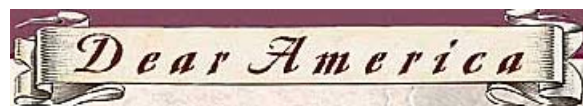

Local News

In the Jan 22, 2008 Fort Worth Star-Telegram there was an interesting article about the College Night event hosted by the Home Educators Alliance for Resources and Training of Texas (HEART). To learn more about this relatively new organization you can visit their website at www.heartoftex.org.

Click here to read the full article in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram online.

Children's Collection Recent Arrivals

Looking for a gripping historical fiction? These two series are aimed at children 10 to 13 years old. Children will be fascinated by the vivid descriptions, classical style, and characters that leap off the pages. Historical notes offered at the end of the books often include photographs and other documents that make them great additions to any history or social studies lesson. You can find them on the 2nd Floor of the library in the Series collection. See the Ask Us Desk for details.

